1. Work and term. Creator confirms they are based in the United States. Publish 5 distinct original LockPower TikTok videos on the account listed above within 30 consecutive days. Day 1 is the first agreed post's Pacific Time date; Day 30 ends at 11:59 p.m. Pacific Time. Send each post link to Brand.

2. Fixed pay. The fixed fee is US$100 for 5 qualifying videos (US$20 each). Brand pays US$20 by the next business day after each video is posted and its link is received, up to US$100 total. Confirm the payment method by email. This fee does not depend on views or sales.

3. Sample purchase advance. After both parties sign and before Creator orders, Brand sends Creator the agreed purchase price of one LockPower Infinity unit from Brand’s TikTok Shop, excluding shipping. Once the funds arrive, Creator uses the advance to buy the unit from that shop and sends Brand the order receipt. The advance is separate from the US$100 video fee. If the purchase is canceled or refunded, Creator returns the unused or refunded advance to Brand.

4. Content and review. Clearly disclose the paid partnership in each video, share honest experience and use original or licensed materials. Brand may request drafts and reasonable factual corrections while respecting Creator's style, and will respond promptly. Substantial reshoots require mutual agreement.

5. Keep videos public. Keep each video public for 90 days from posting. Do not delete, make private or restrict its audience without Brand's written consent. Promptly report platform removals or access problems. Necessary legal or safety-related removal is allowed with prompt notice.

6. Problems. Brand gives written notice and three business days to fix a breach. Only the US$20 fee for a missing or still noncompliant video may be withheld or a proportionate refund sought; other earned fees remain due. Serious or repeated uncorrected breaches allow termination of future work. Brand-caused delays and unavoidable platform problems do not automatically trigger these remedies. Mandatory payment rights remain intact.

7. Promotion and renewal. Brand will help promote agreed videos. Creator retains ownership; reposting, editing or paid ads need Creator's written permission. This agreement covers one 30-day term and does not renew automatically. Renewals and changes require written agreement; email or direct message may be used.
